

CONNECTICUT HISTORY

NOVEMBER 1987

NUMBER TWENTY-EIGHT

ARTICLES

- | | | |
|--------------------|--|----|
| Alfred C. Richard | The Tampico Incident: Connecticut Almost Goes to War | 1 |
| J. Garry Clifford | A Connecticut Colonel's Candid Conversation With the Wrong Commander-in-Chief | 24 |
| Gregory T. D'Auria | A Connecticut Cassandra in Camelot: Chester Bowles, John F. Kennedy, and the Vietnam War | 39 |

NOTES AND DOCUMENTS

- | | | |
|--------------------|---|----|
| John F. Sutherland | Strikes, Politics, and Sermons: Two Contrasting Views of the Cheney Brothers Strike of 1902 | 58 |
|--------------------|---|----|

BOOK REVIEWS

- | | |
|---|----|
| Brault, Gerard J., The French-Canadian Heritage in New England.
Reviewed by Leon Sarin | 68 |
| Brusic, Lucy McTeer, A Bicentennial History of North Haven.
Reviewed by Floyd M. Shumway | 71 |
| Daniels, Bruce C., Power and Status: Officeholding in Colonial America.
Reviewed by James Walsh | 72 |
| Jensen, Merrill, The Documentary History of the Ratification of the Constitution: Volume III, Ratification by the States of Delaware, New Jersey, Georgia, Connecticut.
Reviewed by Christopher Collier | 74 |
| Lewis, Thomas R. and Harmon, John E., Connecticut: A Geography.
Reviewed by Bruce C. Daniels | 77 |