

CONNECTICUT HISTORY

Vol. 42, No. 1

Spring 2003

ARTICLES

Richard DeLuca	"An Effort of Genius": A New Look at David Bushnell and the Connecticut Turtle	1
Louis Arthur Norton	Dudley Saltonstall and the Penobscot Expedition, 1779	19
Jamie H. Eves	"We Go to Be in the Midst of [A] Vast Jungle": The Connecticut Diaries of Edwin Way Teale	40

EXHIBITION REVIEWS

Florence Griswold Museum, The American Artist in Connecticut: The Legacy of the Hartford Steam Boiler Collection .	Reviewed by Bill Hosley	65
Antiquarian & Landmarks Society, Witness on Main Street .	Reviewed by Mark McEachern	68
Peabody Museum of Natural History, Machu Picchu: Unveiling the Mystery of the Incas .	Reviewed by Elizabeth Pratt Fox	72

EXHIBITIONS OF INTEREST

77

BOOK REVIEWS

Richard S. Newman, The Transformation of American Abolitionism: Fighting Slavery in the Early Republic .	Reviewed by Lawrence B. Goodheart	78
James F. O'Gorman, Connecticut Valley Vernacular: The Vanishing Landscape and Architecture of the New England Tobacco Fields .	Reviewed by Briann G. Greenfield	80

Stephen Jones, Working Thin Waters: Conversations with Lawrence H. Malloy, Jr.	Reviewed by John Odin Jensen
Cecelia Bucki, Bridgeport's Socialist New Deal, 1915-1936 .	Reviewed by Mary Cygan
Linwood T. Bland, A View from the Sixties: The Black Experience in Southeastern Connecticut .	Reviewed by Julian Madison